The combination of the dark grey cabinets with the oak island and additional oak units is stylish and luxurious. The Dekton worktop and splashback complement them perfectly with bold yet refined veining, while also being durable and practical.

“Helen’s advice on these finishes, along with additional drawer storage in the island and details such as the wine fridge, was hugely helpful. I’m delighted with my kitchen and would highly recommend Kube to friends and family.”

Dublin

A calm, contemporary kitchen designed to truly support modern life.

Black Green cabinetry paired with manganese bronze handles brings depth and character, while a crisp white worktop keeps the design feeling bright and balanced. Thoughtful details, including the BORA Pure hob and a practical, well-designed sink area, ensure the space works as beautifully as it looks.

“The kitchen now feels brighter, more spacious, and much more practical for everyday living.”

Bernie, Dublin

Dublin

Small and stylish white kitchen in Dublin.

Aesthetics and elegance meet modern design in this timeless kitchen design from Kube. The pale colour of the units and the white Silestone bring extra light to this client's kitchen and the deep blue island provides a nice contrast.

"The hidden sockets keep everything neat and uncluttered, while the island gives us valuable extra storage and a place where we naturally gather every day."

Caroline, Dublin

Cork

A bespoke kitchen from Kube Cork.

Designed at the early stages of a new-build, it makes the most of the room's scale with tall cabinetry, a concealed walk-in pantry, and a central island that invites both everyday use and entertaining. Chloe wanted a stylish, simple design that was timeless and would work well with her open plan dining, living and hallway areas.

“I wanted something neutral that wouldn't date, something that could grow with us as a family. Storage was hugely important so I chose tall units with extra room on top for storing items that are used less often. The concealed pantry is fantastic, it has heaps of storage and is conveniently located right beside where you are preparing meals.”

Kildare

Where old meets new – Kitchen Design in Kildare.

Working closely with Ciara, our design team combined Laser Sand cabinetry with the new Structura Milano Walnut finish to create warmth and balance against the natural textures. An elegant floating drawer cabinet, softly illuminated from below, bridges changes in level and connects the living and kitchen areas, while a cleverly integrated laundry zone under the stairs maintains a seamless, uncluttered look.

“My favourite thing about my new Kube kitchen is the wooden effect of the island, of the drawers, of the units, and the backsplash. I think it ties in beautifully with the ceiling beam and complements the stonework of the existing house perfectly.”

Dublin

A minimalist kitchen with maximum function.

Simon Delaney is one of the many customers who placed their trust in Kube Kitchens. We designed Simon's dream kitchen — a space tailored for family life and filming his cookery show. Simon's High Gloss Kube kitchen has worktops in Silestone Quartz in Maple Stellar, with an Oak finished breakfast bar to seat four, which borders the island. In addition to the kitchen design, we planned a simple but very effective matching living and TV area by combining the materials used in the kitchen.

“We needed a kitchen that would function well for our family and also look spectacular for filming my upcoming cooking programme. Many of our friends recommended Kube, and we feel fortunate that they did.”

Cork

Elegant black kitchen in Cork.

This contemporary kitchen and pantry design showcases a bold yet timeless aesthetic. The Dekton Sirius worktop delivers depth and durability, while the BORA Classic with both induction and gas offers exceptional cooking flexibility. A standout detail is the Black frame air glass pantry door, adding a refined architectural touch. Completing the space, the dining area features the elegant Calligaris ABREY table, combining a Matt Black frame with Matt Bronze legs — an elegant complement to the kitchen's material palette.

“The matt black finish gives the kitchen a sophisticated look, while the handleless design keeps everything feeling streamlined and uncluttered.”

Meath

A contemporary family kitchen in Stamullen, Co. Meath.

This result is a highly considered space that balances design and performance. Premium materials, precise craftsmanship, and careful installation ensure a high-quality finish throughout, while the layout enables a more social and engaging cooking experience. As Garreth highlights, the process was seamless and customer-focused from start to finish — delivering a kitchen that not only looks exceptional, but works effortlessly for how his family lives.

“Our old kitchen no longer worked for our family’s needs. Through the design process, we created a much more open and functional space that connects seamlessly with the dining and living areas. It has completely transformed how we use and enjoy our home every day.”

Gareth, Meath

Dublin

A sleek black kitchen in Dublin 9.

This wonderful couple came to Helen at Kube Balbriggan after seeing the incredible kitchens her clients had created—the quality and service spoke for themselves. The clients wanted a sleek black kitchen, so we recommended an anti-fingerprint finish for easy maintenance and a handleless design for a clean, modern look. With Dekton Kelya worktops, we added a bronze track for warmth and subtle drama.

“Working with one company meant the entire fit-out for both spaces was smooth, cohesive, and stress-free.”

Laura, Dublin

Galway

A contemporary dark kitchen in Galway.

This is a family home in Galway for Laura, John and their three children. They were restoring and extending a derelict cottage into a contemporary four bedroom house on a beautiful site outside the city. Laura had a clear vision of what she wanted to achieve regarding the look and quality of the kitchen. It needed to be functional, durable and match the aesthetic of the home.

“We absolutely love the dramatic look of our kitchen. The textured Blackened Oak doors with the integrated LED lighting create such a luxurious feel, while the generous Copper Oxide Steel island really makes a statement. One of our favourite features is the hidden pantry behind the secret doors. The pantry flows into a spacious utility room and separate boot room, and the overall layout works brilliantly for our family.”

Dublin

A dream white kitchen designed at Kube Balbriggan.

Louise's dream kitchen brought to life — this beautifully designed handleless kitchen features soft white matt lacquered laminate cabinetry paired with warm Chalet Oak details, creating a timeless Scandinavian-inspired aesthetic. The Chalet Oak finish continues through the island seating area and wall units, adding warmth and texture to the space. Louise chose premium appliances throughout, including Siemens ovens and the BORA M Pure hob. The design is completed with elegant 20mm Ethereal Glow Silestone worktops, adding a refined finish to this bright and contemporary space.

“I had a very positive experience with Kube in Balbriggan. I absolutely love the finished result. Now, over two years since installation, it remains as stylish and functional as ever.”

Dublin

A beautifully crafted contemporary kitchen in a compact space.

The client owns The Garden in Powerscourt Townhouse and has recently opened a new sister shop on Mill Street. Mark chose this kitchen for his apartment in Dublin city centre. “Tiny but perfect,” says Mark, reflecting the compact size of the space and his appreciation for its intimate, carefully designed layout that suits exactly how he wants to run it.

“Tiny but perfect. My friends slag me that it’s tiny but it’s perfect for me.”

Dublin

Beautifully designed for cooking and entertaining.

This Kube kitchen combines premium craftsmanship with practical functionality. Durable materials, smart storage, and an efficient layout create a space that works effortlessly, whether preparing a quick meal or cooking for a crowd.

“My favourite thing about my Kube kitchen is how beautifully it blends style and functionality. The sleek, modern design really elevates the space, while the thoughtful layout makes cooking and entertaining so much easier. The storage solutions are brilliant – every item has its place, and I never feel cramped for space, even in a smaller area. It truly makes cooking a pleasure.”
